We are # Actinvision

Founded in 2014 by Olivier Catherin, Alexandre Tricot and Martin Lee, Actinvision offers customized services for the entire data value chain: from data storage, to visualization. Our inventive and agile approach is structured around four funadamental core values we share with each and every member of our community: relationship, efficiency, expertise, service.

With great data
comes great insight

From Data Visualization to Engagement, commit your organization to the data-driven culture that suits you
