

Contract & Spend Management Solution

Manage supplier relationships to save money, identify areas of risk and improve quality of service.

The number of contracts many organisations need to manage is striking, and there are real opportunities to make huge savings and improve the quality of service delivered by your suppliers.

This responsibility not only falls on the commercial professionals, who negotiate contracts with suppliers, but on those who manage and improve those contracts, work with suppliers and support wider commercial activity.

Powerful visualisation of key commercial data, from multiple sources, enable you to quickly and clearly see supplier spend, manage supplier relationships in a collaborative joined up way and be more proactive in identifying and acting on areas of opportunity and risk.

Measure suppliers, contracts & spend consistently across the organisation
