Customer success: Wayne State University

Wayne State University partnered with Amesite to deliver Warrior TechSource, a holistic platform that provides fully online, on-demand courses with live instructors.

"Working with Amesite, we had nearly 100% retention in our programs... AI is critical in creating engagement and is important for us not only to build programs, but to build programs that people complete."

- Farshad Fotouhi, Dean of WSU College of Engineering

Wayne State was able to implement cutting edge programs created by Amesite, covering a variety of topics, including Autonomous Vehicle Technologies, Data Science, Electric Vehicle Technologies, Mobility as a Service, and Programming for Autonomous Systems

The Amesite platform drove best in class learner engagement, resulting in 98% learner retention.

Customer success: The Henry Ford Museum

The Henry Ford partnered with Amesite to deliver inHub, a global resource and community for activating an innovative mindset.

“Amesite’s technology has made our system scalable, flexible, and easy-to-use so that we can fully achieve our goals of teaching and inspiring that next generation of innovators and inventors.”

- Patricia Mooradian, President and CEO

This specialized digital learning platform, delivered by Amesite, enables users to engage, interact and experience The Henry Ford’s collections and its stories in a whole new way.

The Henry Ford now can deliver their collections and resources to millions of learners on a system that required no new infrastructure and that is fully powered by Amesite.
