

Easily prepare students for college success

Give your students critical information to ensure post-secondary success. Xello helps students see the role higher education plays in achieving their future aspirations and provides easy-to-use planning tools to simplify the college application process.

End-to-end support for a smoother application experience

Xello supports students at every step as they plan their post-secondary journey. From exploring college options to preparing the application -- we've got you covered.

Explore college options

Xello helps students make informed decisions about their post-secondary pathway. Rich, vibrant college profiles paint a picture of campus life. Students gain a better understanding of admission benchmarks, application requirements, and available programs so they can decide on the right school for them.

Prepare for ACT and SAT success

Xello integrates with Method Test Prep to offer students support as they prepare to tackle the ACTs and SATs. Students can also see how their test scores align with acceptance requirements and compare college options to help them choose the school that's the best fit. Your students will have all the resource they'll need in a single spot to prepare for post-secondary success.

Understand important dates and deliverables

Xello keeps students on track during the application process. School-specific task lists outline what's required. Students can see application and FAFSA deadlines at a glance. Say goodbye to missed dates or overlooked documents and hello to more organized and accountable students.

Request and track critical application documents

Help students pull together the documents needed for a successful application. Students can request e-transcripts and letters of recommendation from right within Xello. They can see the progress of their requests and know exactly when documents are submitted -- reducing student anxiety and the need for follow-up.

Level up your approach to college applications

Xello makes it easy for educators to know where their students stand during the application process.

Monitor application progress

Access student applications and see their progress so you know which students are on track and who needs extra support.

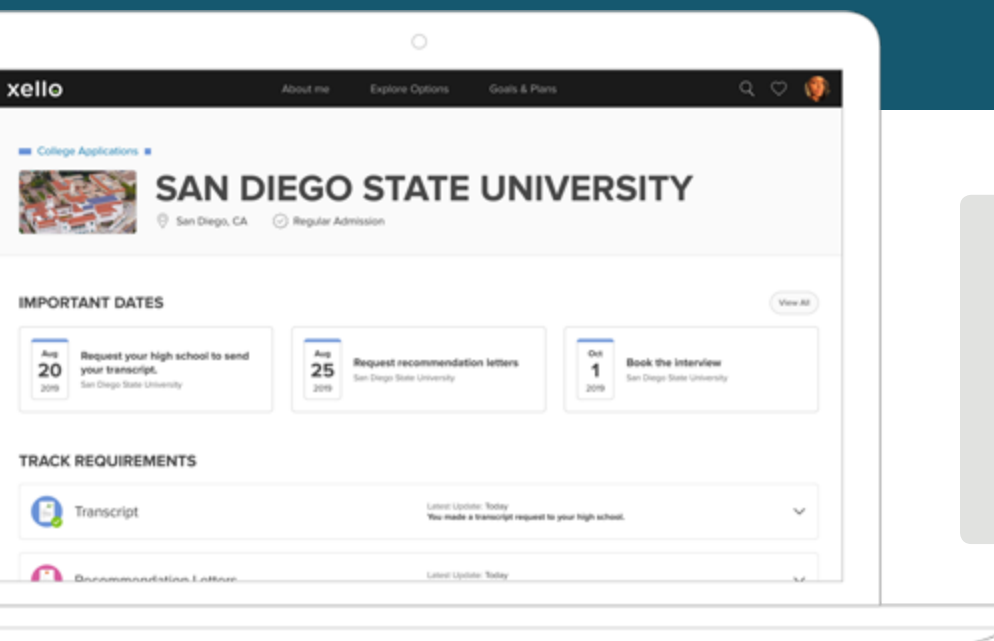

Track post-secondary outcomes

Xello integrates with National Student Clearinghouse® to help you measure college success. You'll see enrollment and completion rates, allowing you to easily report on student persistence.

Teach students how to persist

Xello's turn-key lessons help students build the decision making, problem-solving, and planning skills they'll need to thrive after high-school.

Ready to help your students achieve college success?

See how Xello can prepare every student for their post-secondary journey.

Visit www.xello.world to request a demo and learn more.