

Safeguard your organization with modern security operations

Threat Protection

Business Benefits

Detect and investigate advanced threats, compromised identities and malicious actions.

Protect your organizations with adaptive, built-in intelligence.

Modernize your security operations to reduce costs and increase productivity.

Threat Protection solutions can help protect your organization from malicious attacks and make it easy for your security operations team to detect and investigate a wide range of threats.

Detect advanced threats

Avaleris can provide a full range of consulting services to ensure that your organization's security operations team is best positioned to detect and investigate advanced threats, on-premise or in the cloud, using the following Microsoft technologies:

- Defender for M365
- Defender for Endpoint
- Defender for Office 365
- Defender for Identity
- Secure Score
- Azure Sentinel
- Advanced Threat Protection

Accelerate your Threat Protection journey with an Interactive Briefing

Every organization has unique requirements. Avaleris' Interactive Briefing will help you understand how the latest Microsoft technologies can improve your Threat Protection posture and quickly provide you with high-level recommendations based on your current and future requirements.

1. "Technology Overview"

Allow us to present the latest Microsoft technologies and features and to demonstrate how they can assist your organization.

2. "Assessment"

Provide us with a current state and future requirements so that we can best determine the right next step.

3. "Recommendations"

Receive a set of high-level recommendations and prioritized next steps to guide your Threat Protection journey.
