Understand.

Marion takes a look at how the project is currently doing.

She identifies the main positive points to be highlighted and the few areas for improvement to be discussed.

16 To improve: Decision-making

Before the project meeting: share meeting objectives, agenda, expected decisions and pre-read material at least 24 hours in advance.

After the project meeting: share key decisions with the whole project team.

Status: Ongoing initiative

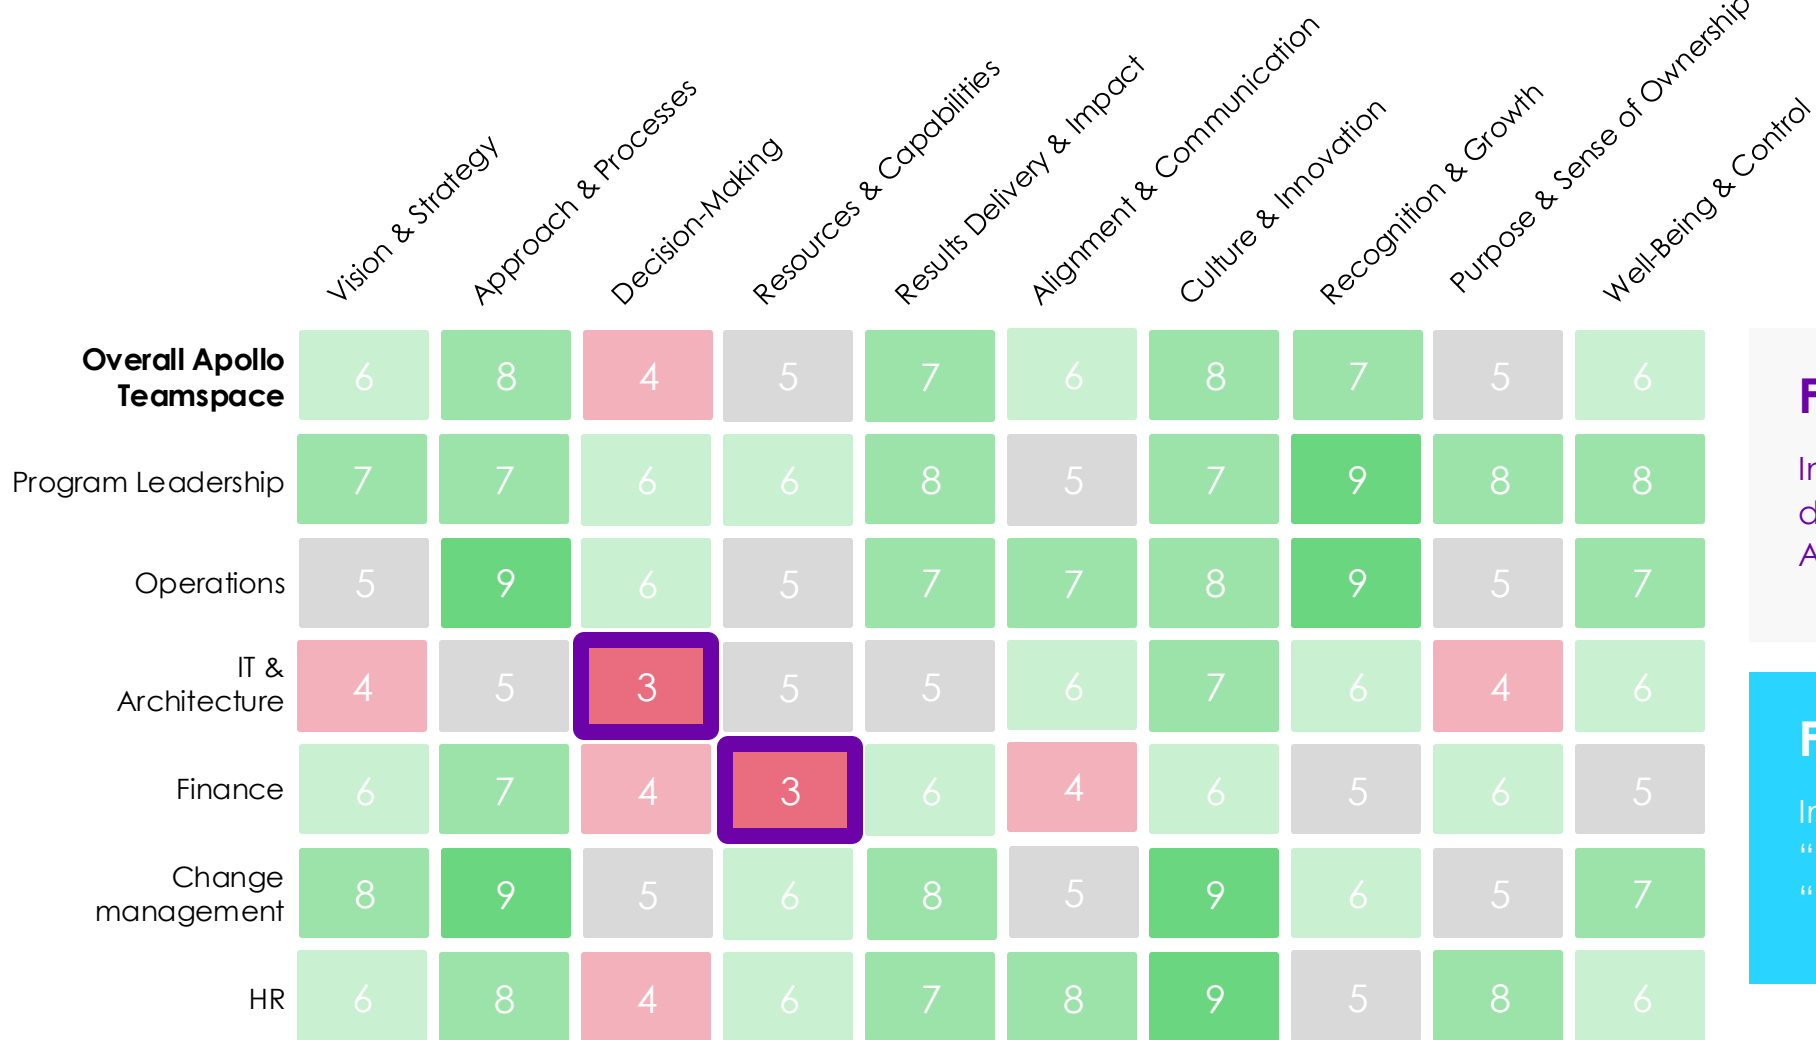

Act.

Marion reviews the different feedback and propositions submitted by the team.

She prepares discussion points for the next group meeting.

Decision-Making

For the last closed period

3.4

The team is aligned

-2.3pts below benchmark

The quality of "Decision-Making" is steadily declining. This is an important signal from the team that needs to be addressed.

Decision-Making

Learning 1

Avoid inefficient and time-consuming meetings

Learning 2

Review the decision-making process with the IT team

4/10

The team is able to make effective and timely decisions.

"The multiplicity of people involved makes it difficult to make decisions, and the inertia of exchanges means we're falling way behind schedule."

2/10

Meetings are properly structured and efficiently managed to facilitate decision-making.

"There's a flagrant lack of efficiency to date in our meetings, which drag on without the decision-making objectives always being achieved. We waste time, it's time-consuming and it prevents us from making progress on the rest of our topics."

Resources & Capabilities

For the last closed period

3.6

 The team is partly aligned

- 1.9pts below benchmark

A few sticking points have emerged, hampering good team performance. A majority of the group agrees that something needs to change to ensure good teamwork.

Resources & Capabilities

Learning 1

Improve the middle management commitment in the Finance community

Learning 2

Recreate purpose by making communication more fluid

3/10

I feel the leadership is personally committed to team's success.

"We need to see our local worksite managers more involved and more federative. They never come to meetings and don't know how to communicate."

5/10

We quickly get the required validations, resources and sponsorship to pursue our objectives.

"The middle management is absent, and I often feel that I lack support. Discussions with other stakeholders become more difficult."

Meanwhile, each team member can position itself in relation to the rest of the team

Impact

Program health is on the rise, meetings more efficient and management more present.

7/10

I feel the leadership is personally committed to team's success.

"Our site manager is much more present, and the "champion" who supports us brings us clarity. We're better structured."

8/10

Meetings are properly structured and efficiently managed to facilitate decision-making.

"I spend a lot less time in meetings, I feel that I am heard and can influence the decisions made. The approach is clear and I've really found my place within the program."

Video with a key user and a manager

- Improved information sharing
- Greater sense of belonging
- Clarified roles

Marion highlights the benefits Steerio has offered to the team

A more balanced relationship between stakeholders

A better communication

Improved information sharing and exchange

Greater roles and objectives clarity

More effective governance rituals and meetings

A sense of belonging and greater ownership

Empowered and proactive team, better dynamics

In a project context involving a large number of stakeholders, Steerio enabled us to highlight certain shortcomings and issues and to proactively capture weak signals. As a result, we were able to proactively improve the way we worked and collaborated within the program.
