Get to know where you stand in the use of business data

In a world that produces new data exponentially and where both consumers and companies are increasingly inclined to use digital means of interaction, the management and use of data is not only essential but has an invaluable commercial value. This challenge is also an opportunity to stand out from the competition.

CHALLENGES

High volume and speed in which different kind of data is gathered by companies represent a challenge in terms of supporting infrastructure, governance and proper use.

It is not sufficient to store the data if such is never given business meaning and is made available in a timely fashion, with the best tools possible, to the right people

IDEAL SOLUTION

Our assessment provides the understanding required to take action and start or improve the data journey and digital transformation of the organization. From gathering the data to transform it into actionable insights, we provide the experience and guidance to prepare a strategy aligned with needs and capabilities, both financially and in skillsets, available and leveraging the Azure data platform.

DESIRED OUTCOMES

Obtain a tailored data modernization roadmap and experience modern data platform scenarios on Azure to help lead your own digital transformation and data journey.

Save trial and error frustration and expenses leveraging our expertise in the field of data and analytics.

2-week Assessment + Azure Modern DataWarehouse

Experience a full Azure modern DataWarehouse implementation and learn how this approach can fulfill your current or future needs while learning about industry best practices and how they map to your business needs and data strategies

From data gathering to insights

Leverage several Azure tools such as Azure Data Factory, Azure DataLake Azure Synapse and Power BI to experience an end-to-end data journey on the cloud. Our roadmap document will help you map your needs to a complete implementation on Azure.

Your data available anywhere and safely stored

Have your data securely stored worldwide with little or no management effort. Azure offers several tools with PaaS or SaaS subscriptions to help adapt to different strategies and cost budget. We will work with you on the different alternatives with their corresponding estimated costs for a modern data implementation.

Every data related role in one place

We will show you how data scientists, data engineers, data analyst, and others can collaborate in one place with Azure Synapse Studio to save time and produce collaborative results with different skills from the data etl to the creation semantic models as well as descriptive and advance analytics models and reports.

Customer success: e-Process and their data strategy

“Binomics helped us greatly to transform our vision around data management and use. The experience and advice they provided allowed us to face our digital transformation roadmap with confidence”

-Juliana Gallego, Project Leader Spain & LATAM, e-Process Group

Embrace the digital transformation

Working side by side with Binomics e-Process was able to create a data modernization strategy from the ground up that spans several years stepped adoption of new technologies and processes

Promote data-driven decisions

Through implementation of best practices in data management and the use of new tools for e-Process such as PowerBI, the company is now able to better understand the business challenges and the best actions needed to success

Boost your decision making.

With our years of experience in dealing with data of all kind and platforms, e-Process was able to start transforming its raw data into meaningful information which today play a central role in business decision making through tools such as Power BI.
