The modern workplace is becoming increasingly dynamic and the requirements are becoming more and more complex. Users want to be able to access their applications and their data from anywhere with different devices. For those responsible in IT departments, this results in the challenge of keeping the devices under their control at all times and keeping the data secure. To meet these challenges, BitHawk offers a comprehensive portfolio of Workplace products and years of experience in integration in complex environments.

At BitHawk, we customize our products to meet your individual needs and combine them into a total solution. The different technologies make it possible to really meet your wishes and requirements.

BitHawk has many years of experience in Workplace Design of Windows operating systems. This includes, among other things, a stable and fast client that also meets your security requirements. BitHawk accompanies you from the analysis and strategy development of the Workplace to the full rollout.

Device management solutions cover the entire lifecycle of a workstation. Whether on mobile devices such as smartphones and tablets or classically on the desktop - with BitHawk's device management solutions, your daily work will become even easier and more effective.

With application publishing, shared desktop, and VDI, you can access enterprise applications and data from any device. BitHawk uses Citrix Virtual Desktop, Microsoft RDS and VMware Horizon solutions for this purpose. These solutions move the traditional desktop environment to the data center, where it runs on a scalable infrastructure with a high degree of automation. Even with a non-Microsoft operating system, you thus have access to your business infrastructure at all times.

Modern cloud solutions complement the Workplace in various areas. Microsoft Office 365 is established, has gained acceptance and shows where the journey is heading. Windows 10 enables new scenarios to provide corporate resources transparently and securely at the same time. BitHawk accompanies you strategically into the world of cloud solutions and captures all opportunities and risks for your company.

Current and upcoming threats require a well thought-out security concept. BitHawk helps you design and implement a secure workplace, ensuring that you are always in control of your valuable corporate data.
