ConvergeOne

Build Your Cloud Transformation Roadmap

ConvergeOne knows how important it is for organizations thinking about moving to the cloud, to align their business goals and objectives, and this is why we believe in working with the stakeholders to align the business with IT vision.

ConvergeOne's Cloud Readiness Assessment offers organizations the first step in Cloud adoption, discovery, planning and cost which are essential in moving your workloads to the cloud.

ConvergeOne can help accelerate cloud planning and migration, gain insights into your environment, applications and dependency mapping. We design the fundamental migration path with an accurate cost analysis and operational readiness.

By moving to the cloud, organizations can accelerate innovation, provide high availability and scalability, free up resources and lower overall IT costs. This leads to better alignment between IT and the Organization with a decrease in time from idea inception to delivery while driving better results.
