Deliver your mission

Your app will gives users the ability to manage their illness, reducing stress and improving outcomes.

A key differentatior to attract funders

Grow your membership and increase funding. Delivering your own branded apps is a big differentiator, greatly increasing sign up, engagement, and retention of beneficiaries & funders.
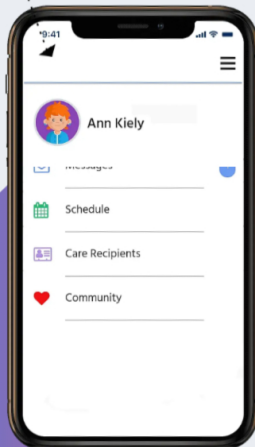

Engaging and scales easily

Members can invite family members to their private family hub to help co-ordinate help with their illness, share memories and use the communication features. They will automatically follow your community content page.

Lasting growth, done smartly

Your own community & branded social network

Your content gets delivered directly to your users in a modern rich user experience that users understand. All of your content is delivered without having to pay for ads, unlike Facebook where organic reach is now minimal and you have to 'pay to play' to have to your content delivered to your followers.
