Cloud-Managed Windows Endpoints and CDI: The future of hybrid work

The Problem...

Most enterprise workers have mobile computing devices that regularly traverse off-network where traditional identity and management tools struggle to work properly. Legacy infrastructure solutions lead to frustration for end users in the form of inconsistent access to network resources and devices that become unusable and require IT intervention over time.

The Solution...

Entra ID joined Windows clients eliminate the line-of-sight requirements of Windows Server Active Directory therefor eliminating the challenges previously discussed. Device and user authentication happen directly with cloud-based Entra ID while device management falls to cloud-based solutions, such as Microsoft Intune.

How we can help...

CDI offers a cloud-managed Windows endpoints professional services engagement to help your organization from planning and user adoption awareness training through deployment and support. Leverage our teams experience deploying this solution for dozens of organizations to jump start your transition to cloud-managed endpoints and ensure a smooth transition.

Deliverables include:
- Planning, design, and training
- Configuration of prerequisites
- Configuration of Microsoft Intune & Windows Autopilot
- Pilot device deployment
- User-awareness training documentation
