circit

A confirmations platform for auditors and banks to verify business in real-time

Circit is an open banking and audit platform which connects audit firms to banks and other evidence providers to facilitate more efficient and higher quality audits. This connectivity is achieved via fully encrypted on platform messaging and communication channels as well as via open banking APIs. Circit is a fully regulated AISP under PSD2 and hosts its entire platform and DevOps on Microsoft Azure.

For Auditors:

Circit brings together everything an auditor needs to manage the end-to-end process for every type of audit confirmation, for every client, across your entire firm.

From real-time confirmation requests to verified at source transactions and the complete client collaboration and digital signing experience, Circit helps firms re-imagine their audit work.

For Banks:

Circit enables banks to transform their back-office operations with a secure digital platform and a clear roadmap towards full automation.

Consolidate all channels for auditor requests received via Circit, post, e-mail or fax and manage everything in one place for all business customers and auditors globally.

"The Circit Platform has transformed this area of our audit engagements with clients and counter-parties. Confirming balances and arrangements directly with banks and solicitors is now a seamless process, all within one system"
