Copilot for Microsoft 365 Fundamentals

Insight to the Future

Powered by People, Driven by Digital

We believe that technology exists to support people. This is more evident with the introduction of AI, so let Cisilion's People Centric approach and Adoption practitioners enable you to get the best from these new tools.

Solutions Partner

Their [Cisilion] ability to provide explicit examples was great...they were impressive, engaging hosts.

A well-known Technology and Automotive Company

This 6-week Work Package builds on the success of the 'Essentials' offering and takes it to the next level. Here we actively promote and engage in a constructive feedback loop to provide insight and direction for your early adopters.

Together we will gather relevant information on how the technology has been embraced, feedback on its effectiveness and highlight the Showcase Interactions. This is brought together into a breakdown on the business impact of Copilot for Microsoft 365 together with a roadmap on how to successfully introduce it.

Copilot for Microsoft 365 is more than just introducing new technology into the environment and turning it on, it is all about managing the organisational change and understanding user adoption.

Our people centric approach is based on years of working with all sizes of organisations across almost every sector, and is based the key principles of Change Management
