

Teams Calling and Meetings Assessment

Discover Calling and Meetings possibilities through Teams

Communication is increasingly agile and critical for modern businesses. Being at the cutting-edge, able to work remotely and link up instantly with video technology can make a world of difference to the speed and culture of the way organisations operate.

Discover what's possible when it comes to calling and meetings with our Microsoft Teams Calling and Meetings Assessment. A two-day assessment workshop will cover a range of areas to identify your organisation's requirements, leading to a detailed summary of the possibilities for modernisation and user adoption.

A two-day workshop will cover the following topics to outline a calling and meetings blueprint with Teams using Office 365 licences.

'Intelligent Communications' vision and strategy	Empower your employees to increase participation in shared work and manage everyday communications
Calling and Meetings	Consider your existing voice and meeting requirements to ensure a migration strategy increases collaboration
Persona analysis	True performance means understanding the behaviour of different groups and planning how to configure features to meet their requirements
Workload analysis	Explore practical examples of time-saving measures for a variety of different users
Microsoft Rooms and Devices	Optimise the configuration of meeting spaces and devices for enhanced collaboration
Service mapping	Map product features to roles, from executives to technicians in the field, to understand the different communication features that will improve day-to-day working routines

Prepare for migration to a Calling and Meetings plan

We will provide you with a detailed assessment report with a full overview of the next steps for developing an implementation plan for the roll-out of calling and meetings capabilities.

Why Cloud Direct?

- ✓ We have a heritage of working with Microsoft voice technologies, from Lync to Skype for Business to Teams.
- ✓ Expert capabilities in project management across networking, voice, endpoints and porting phone numbers.
- ✓ A Microsoft Gold Partner for Communications and Cloud Productivity.

0800 0315 966

enquiries@clouddirect.netwww.clouddirect.net