

IoT Productivity Scan

Do you think you can do more with digital innovation? You want to reap the advantages of Internet of Things? We can help you get started with your business case.

Make use of our experience in the field of IoT business implementation and let us help you to generate concrete solutions. We do this with the structured walkthrough method. Together with you on the shop floor, we look for possible productivity improvements through the use of IoT. Very practical and focused on results. We briefly go through the process together as we walk through the production.

In doing so, we focus on opportunities in the field of:

- Saving operations;
- Energy transition and sustainability;
- Increasing quality;
- Improving the utilization of your machinery;
- Improving the service to your own organization and customers;
- New digital products based on IoT data.

This is how we map out problems and opportunities. It takes little time, but provides many insights. Guaranteed! The result of this walkthrough is guaranteed to be 10 ideas that we present to you in a follow-up session.
