

Microsoft Purview Data Security Maturity

Data protection that scales without disruption

Many organisations know they need stronger control over sensitive data but still lack a clear view of what matters most, which Purview controls should come next, and how to improve data protection without disrupting the business.

Purview Data Security Maturity gives you a bounded way to answer those questions. Across three agreed Purview capability areas, Advania reviews the current position, identifies the gaps that matter most, and produces a roadmap leaders can approve.

Based on your current Microsoft 365 and Purview estate, Advania will assess the control position, governance model, and adoption blockers. This gives you a defensible maturity baseline, a prioritised set of next-step decisions, and a practical 90/180-day roadmap for rollout, uplift, or policy hardening.

What's included

Our service provides you with:

- ✓ Prioritised recommendation set showing which control, ownership, and governance decisions should happen next.
- ✓ Practical 90/180-day roadmap showing what to do first and what to phase next.
- ✓ Executive readout with one named recommended next step.

How the engagement works

This engagement turns evidence into a practical plan. Starting with the agreed capability areas and current tenant position, Advania works through a simple four-part structure, so the outcome is clear, prioritised, and ready for action.

Why choose Advania?

- ✓ A leading Microsoft Solutions Partner for Security, we hold all four specialisations and have been accredited for consistently delivering security, compliance and identity solutions for Defender, Sentinel, Entra and more.
- ✓ We connect Microsoft Purview controls with governance, ownership, and adoption rather than treating the work as a portal-only exercise.
- ✓ We give leaders a roadmap they can approve and delivery teams can turn into the next practical step.
- ✓ We shape recommendations from the current tenant position and available evidence, not generic best-practice slides.
- ✓ We can help you unlock and maximise available Microsoft funding to reduce project costs and accelerate your initiatives.
