In today's rapidly evolving digital landscape, leveraging the capabilities of AI integrated with Microsoft's suite of productivity and collaboration tools is essential for staying competitive and efficient. However, successfully navigating this transformation requires a strategic approach that ensures your data is secure and compliance requirements are met. Coretek's M365 Copilot Readiness Assessment serves as your compass, offering a deep dive into your organization's readiness, identifying key opportunities for optimization and paving the way for a seamless transition to a more agile and productive workplace.

M365 Copilot Readiness the Coretek Way

Coretek's Smart Enterprise experts will guide your organization in embracing the potential of Artificial Intelligence (AI) through Microsoft 365 Copilot. Our focus is on boosting user productivity and safeguarding your data while delivering a tangible return on investment (ROI) from your AI initiatives. As the leading Azure partner in the US, our top-tier technical professionals are here to ensure your AI investment pays off.

- Grounded in your business data. AI-powered LLMs are trained on a large but limited corpus of data. The key to unlocking productivity in business lies in connecting LLMs to your business data — in a secure, compliant, privacy-preserving way.

- Built on Microsoft's comprehensive approach to security, compliance and privacy. Copilot is integrated into Microsoft 365 and automatically inherits all your company's valuable security, compliance, and privacy policies and processes. Architect, design, and build cloud-native apps anywhere without sacrificing central visibility and control.
