The purpose behind our local government business

Engaged communities and sustainable local authorities through a transformed experience for staff, customers, and other stakeholders.

Introducing Datascape

Councils can embrace a smarter, more efficient way of working, ensuring that they can focus on what truly matters: serving their communities.

Datascape is a modern cloud-based software suite, purpose-built for local government in Australia and New Zealand and designed to empower councils with the tools they need to streamline their operations, drive efficiency and enhance service delivery.

Comprised of a suite of ERP modules and digital enablement tools that can be used together seamlessly or individually, Datascape adapts to the unique needs of your council. What sets Datascape apart is that it is built with the latest technology and has an ability to integrate seamlessly within your council's digital ecosystem.

Customer focused values. World-class capability. The right solutions to help you navigate, wherever you are on your journey.

With a breadth of offerings and depth of expertise, there isn't a safer pair of hands to help navigate the future of your business.

Datacom is Australasia's largest home-grown tech company. Drawing on the experience of over 6500 staff in 24 locations around the globe, we work with a full range of clients, from small start-ups through to government agencies and multinational corporations, to explore and extract the hidden value in their systems.

We bring together over half a century of know-how, the right technology and the knowledge and creativity of our people, to deliver sustainable solutions to our customers' greatest challenges.

With our team of dedicated professionals, we work with leading partners to deliver the solutions that are right for our customers – that solve their issues and enhances their businesses.

We design, build and run IT systems and processes across operations, cybersecurity, cloud, digital platforms, payroll and enterprise applications.

We deliver customer care services and operate mission-critical infrastructure with best-in-class data centre facilities – Datacom delivers on the promise: practical imagination.
