AUTOMATE VALUE DELIVERY

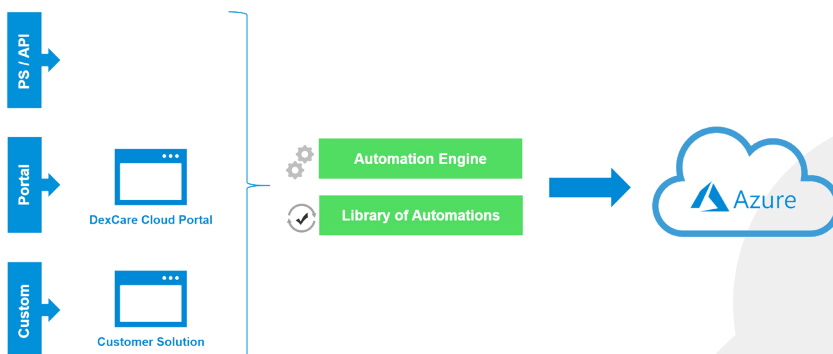

DexBrix is a managed platform enhancing productivity, performance and innovation of your services. By delivering off-the-shelf productivity bricks, the platform helps you model and manage IT processes and your business in a simple, but efficient way. You can benefit instantly from our experience in automation and service management projects packaged in off-the-shelf bricks.

WHAT'S IN THE PACKAGE?

DexBrix comes with a rich set of individual automations and solutions that will put your cloud journey in higher gear:

- Use our comprehensive automation library to automate your cloud IT processes.
- Build your own library.
- Consume automation through API or customer portal.
- DexBrix is a cloud-based service. No waiting lists to design and build the platform, no financial upfront investment. Just pick the module you need from the shelf and start building solutions within minutes.

DexBrix enables you to industrialize your entire cloud environment: standardization, secure by design and compliant through automation.
