Connecting e-commerce and ERP processes in the best possible way

Professional webshop software driven by Microsoft Dynamics

Microsoft Dynamics is a high performance ERP system for medium sized businesses. It enables end-to-end, transparent processes in financial management, marketing, sales, procurement, distribution & warehousing, auditing and much more. Why settle for an isolated website?

Your benefits at a glance:

- Webshops seamlessly integrated in Microsoft Dynamics
- Webshop administration directly from Microsoft Dynamics
- Large number of standard functionalities and extra modules meet all requirements for professional e-commerce
- Fully customisable to realise your companies requirements
- Webshop in your own corporate design
- Optimised for b2b (e.g. business customer portals) or b2c (end customer shops)
- Unlimited multishop capabilities (b2b & b2c)
- Supporting all languages and currencies
- Online payment processing via web and ERP system
- Extensive marketing functionality

b2c webshops with dynamic commerce dynamic commerce provides you with all functionalities to manage a professional b2c webshop. The seamless integration of your ERP system drastically reduces the effort of data administration and of the ordering process to a minimum. Therefore, you can focus on the most important part of your business: successful e-commerce.

Your benefits at a glance:

- Comprehensive product presentation & information (Images, videos, downloads, descriptions)
- Management of different product variations
- Extensive category management: Multiple categories per product
- Attribute management for product filters and comparisons
- Customer review management
- Public order process with or without registration
- Online payment modules (PayPal, credit card, etc.)
- Automatic synchronisation of new orders and customers into Microsoft Dynamics

E-Commerce marketing functionality

- Promotion and discount management
- Gift tokens/vouchers/coupons
- E-mail marketing
- Cross-selling
- SEO functionality
- Social media integration
- Mobile commerce – responsive design, mobile shops, apps
- Customer tracking and analytics

b2b webshops with dynamic commerce

Provide your business customers a fully automated, web-based order collection process with digital advantages.

Today a large number of business customers prefers to order online. With just one click, your customers can receive their account details that enable them to log in and view product availability and individual prices for all of your products via any web browser.

In addition, you can provide customers with fast access to new products, sale items, special offers or processes such as your RMA.

Your benefits at a glance:

- Fast and simple ordering for your business customers via any web browser
- Real time display of product availability and delivery times
- Customer specific prices and discounts
- Presentation of related accessories and replacement products
- Upload of additional information, such as product specifications and user manuals, etc.
- Management of login details, additional users and delivery addresses
- Repetitive orders via order history and favourite lists
- Online document archive for invoices and delivery notes
- Direct orders via product or reference numbers

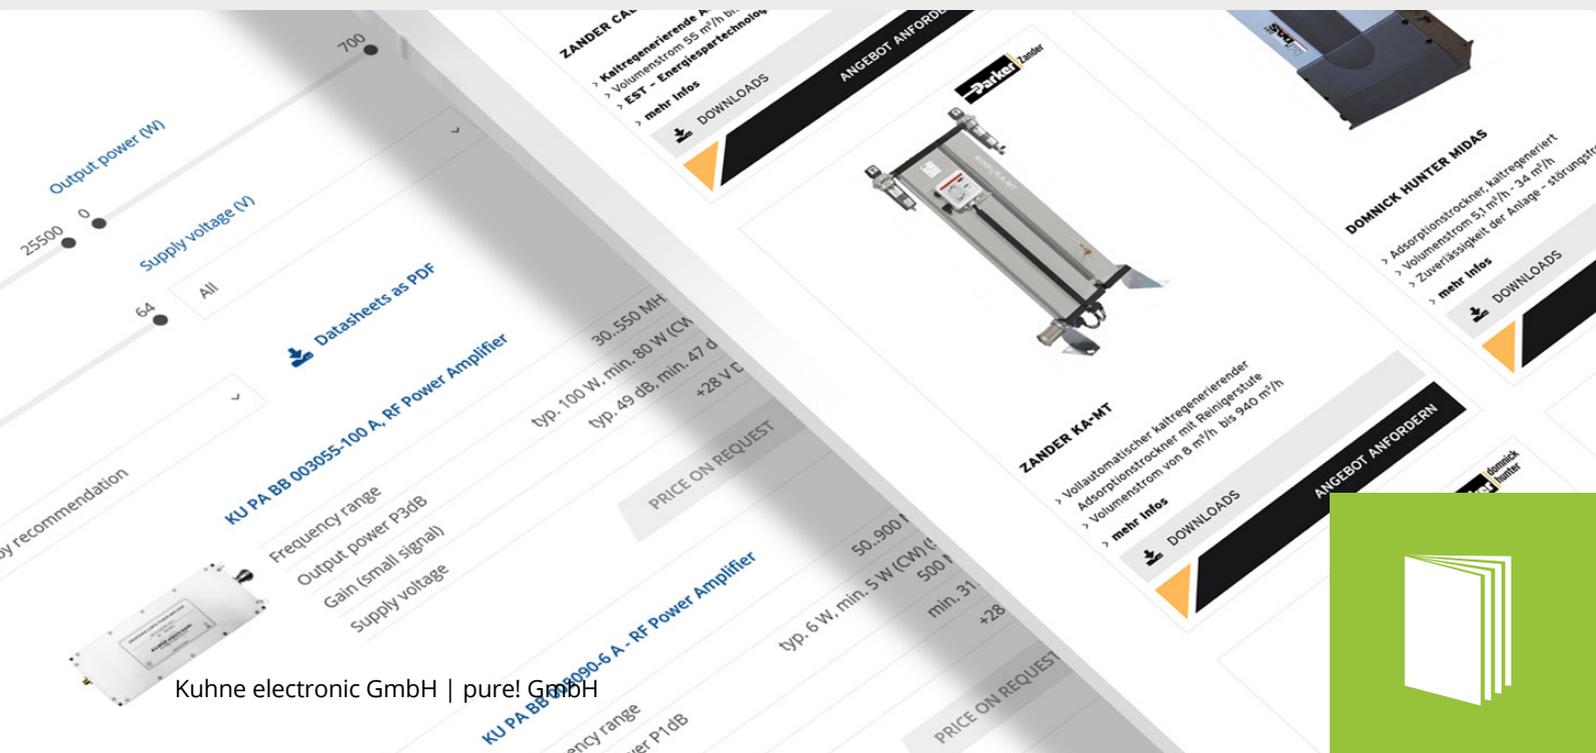

ERP integration

- Incoming orders synchronised directly into Microsoft Dynamics
- Central product management in Microsoft Dynamics eliminates duplicate data entry
- Login details sent directly from Microsoft Dynamics customer page
- Integration of complex price structures and processes such as RMA online

Marketplace integration with dynamic commerce

Manage your online marketplaces such as eBay and Amazon directly from your ERP solution!

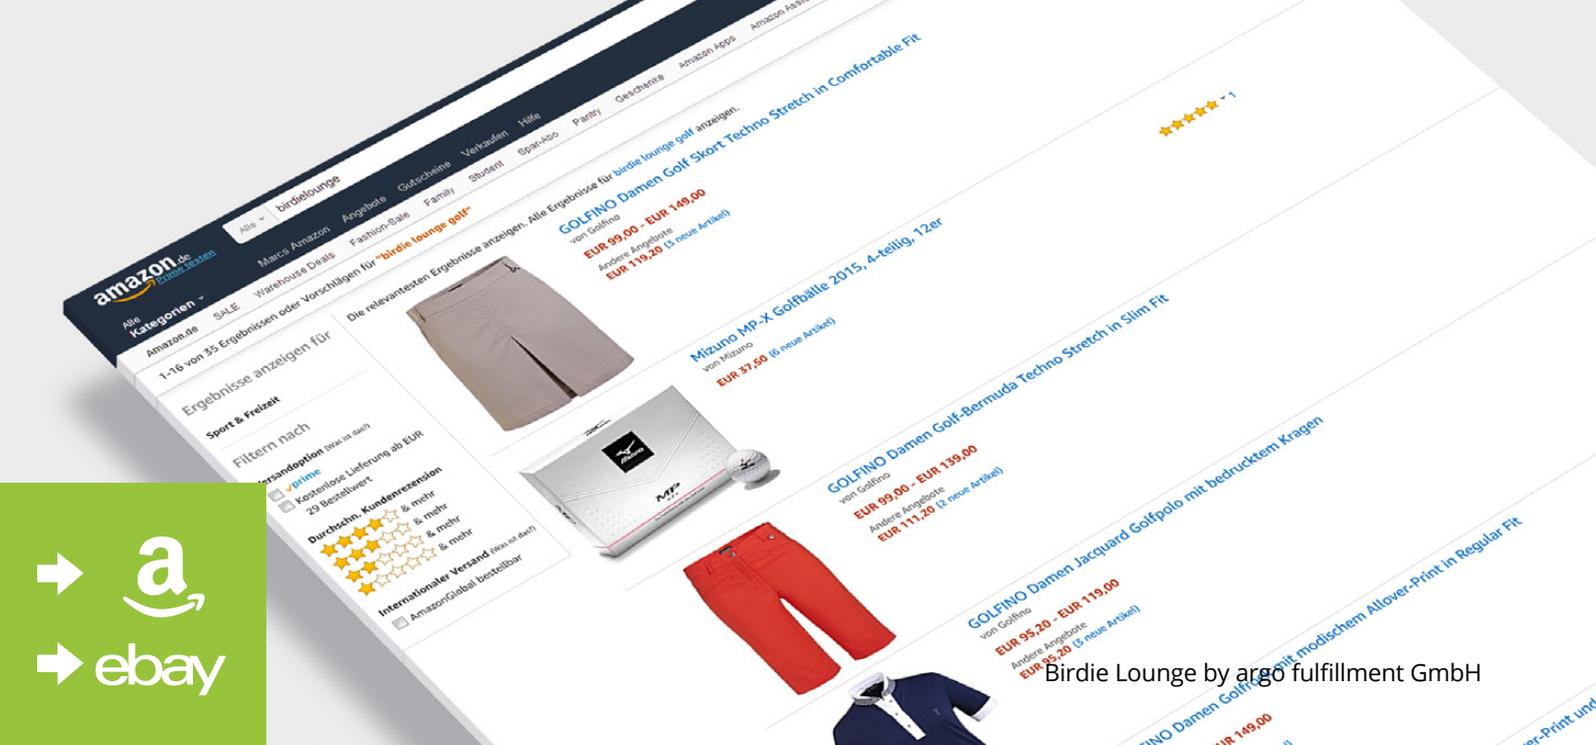

Our software solution provides all the necessary functionality required for you to sell your products on different sales platforms. Reduce product management and data entry to an absolute minimum via complete integration with your ERP system. With just a few clicks, you can publish products to the major online marketplaces directly from Microsoft Dynamics. Incoming orders of these sales channels are automatically synchronised in Microsoft Dynamics.

Connected sales force with dynamic commerce

Connect your sales force to your ERP System via an online sales portal!

With dynamic commerce, your sales force always has the most current customer and product information right at their fingertips. Members of your sales team can log in with any internet connected device and easily manage and place orders for their customers. These orders are automatically entered into Microsoft Dynamics ERP system and do not have to be followed up by your back office.

Catalogue websites with dynamic commerce

With a product catalogue directly connected to your ERP system, your website is always up to date.

An online catalogue enables you to present your products online without offering your customers the ability to order online. An online catalogue can be a stand-alone solution or integrated into an existing website. All product information is retrieved directly from your Microsoft Dynamics ERP system thus eliminating unnecessary data entry.
