Video: Who is The Ambitious Insurer?

Empowering the insurance industry

EIS and Microsoft are partnering together to empower the insurance industry to gain agility and achieve more — with a modern core insurance system.

About us

EIS is the first choice for ambitious insurers who are focused on future-proofing their businesses and building the customer-centric insurance platforms of tomorrow. Founded in 2008, EIS provides customers with a digital insurance platform that has been specifically engineered to remove obstacles, while providing insurers with the freedom they need to pursue and achieve important strategic goals. Our open, flexible, cloud-native coretech platform liberates insurers to increase market share, develop new products, build engaging experiences, lower acquisition costs, boost retention and deliver greater revenue and profits for the long term.

Tech that puts you ahead of the curve

Having embraced the cloud early, EIS has moved beyond the rest of the market by creating a cloud-native, API-first insurance platform that's tailored to your specific needs, and the unique demands of your customers.

We believe the strength, stability and success of every insurer comes directly from its core. That's why we take a digital-first approach to our system design. Our cloud-native platform's openness and agility have helped build the core strength of some of the market's most ambitious insurers.

Your transformation starts here

Whether you want to update outmoded systems, replace your core insurance platform, or launch new customer-centric services, EIS frees Ambitious Insurers from the limitations and constraints of legacy tech. With us, you can deliver innovation without barriers, customer centricity without complexity and control without compromise.
