

Brief Connect

Engage Squared’s Briefing Management & Correspondence Platform, Brief Connect, can solve many of the complex challenges faced by Governmental departments when it comes to managing briefings. Brief Connect allows users to initiate and manage briefs from the department, all the way through to Premier’s approval.

Brief Connect replaces what can be a manual, and paper-based process, that is time intensive for employees and can lack the required transparency to manage and report on briefing statuses. The tool works from phones, iPad's, laptops and home computers, with access controlled by the sophisticated security in Azure Active Directory.

With Brief Connect, users can work both remotely, and increase their productivity, all whilst only having to launch and work from Teams.

Discovery

Our discovery phase consists of requirement gathering workshops, building a POC and deploying it to your environment. From here, we will provide you with an insight into what your solution could look like, alongside a formal proposal.

Build & Deployment

Dependent on your requirements, the build phase can run from 3 – 9 months. We’ll work with your team utilising agile principles. The solution will be deployed and tested in DEV, UAT and production to ensure the final result is of the highest quality.

Change & Adoption

We will support the launch of the application as much or as little as you need us to. We’ll also be there to support with the transition to your technical teams to enable them to continue driving efficiencies by maintaining the application.

“I would highly recommend Engage Squared to any organisation that would like to build a bespoke system. Engage Squared's ability to marry business process with a technology solution is second to none. Their development governance and design follows a clear and robust pathway which made it easy to follow and inform as the client.” Dishella Fernando | Chief of Staff and Director of Transformation, DJCS. Read the case study
