DRSolutions Consulting is structured in 2 phases

Phase 1: Evolutio performs requirements capture and analysis through one or more working sessions with the customer. Evolutio adopts an agile work model, in sprint format, aimed at delivering value in a limited period of time. The scope of this first phase will be to develop a requirements specification document that collects all the information obtained in the previous steps and serves as a basis for the following one.

Phase 2: A high-level design document of the architecture. It meets the requirements collected in the first phase. The deliverables of this second phase will be:

High-level, goal-based design (RTO, RPO)

Budget for making the low-level design and implementation of the proposed solution
