Employee Experience with Viva

Put people in the center and enable them for best productivity and wellbeing

EXPERTS
INSIDE

Employees are the most important asset in every company!

Employees are the heart of each company, it`s time to put people first. With the data of Microsoft Viva, you will be able to support your colleagues working in a complex environment, you are able to ensure their productivity in a hybrid office scenario and to respect their personal wellbeing at the same time.

CHALLENGES

- Employees are asking for a modern and digital work environment. You need to be prepared for the new way of working.
- Many are not ready for digital collaboration and hybrid teams.
- The technology is ready to be used but how do you get the people to collaborate and communicate in this new way of working?

IDEAL SOLUTION

- Get to know our customer, his situation, his goals and his potential to be able to define priorities to improve the employee-experience.
- Define a roadmap about how to implement and control employee experience measurements.

Desired OUTCOMES

- A roadmap with verified measurements, mapped to the goals of a company and bring employee-experience to the next level.
- Evaluate the data of Microsoft Viva and improve the working environment in the new way of working

Experts Inside & Employee Experience powered by Microsoft Viva

As one of the very few Viva jumpstart partners, Experts Inside gained concrete experiences and knowledge in a very early stage. The vision, the mission, the goals and the priorities are different in every company. There is no standard best practice for employee experience. But there is a best practice about how to establish a new level of employee experience.

Drive user adoption and engagement

Ensure easy access to company resources and learning artefacts with Viva Connections and Learning. Employees can access the artifacts directly where they need them - in their daily workflow.

Experience next generation knowledge management

Use Viva Topics to extract valuable information directly out from M365 cloud services. The AI based service enables access to information about experts who used to be hidden champions until now.

Bring productivity and wellbeing into balance

Working in a dynamic environment and hybrid office, leads us automatically to many challenges. Viva Insights helps all employees to make their day more comfortable and more productive.

Business leaders from different industries

Customers who are already engaged with employee-experience have recognized its value. Only optimal access to corporate information, learning artifacts and knowledge sources enable optimal productivity. The balance between engagement and well-being at work strengthens the employee and the commitment to the company in the long term.

Successfully engage hybrid work

“We see a lot of hybrid-work environments coming up, with the support of MS Viva we will be able to help managers to adjust their way of leading teams inspired by the new way of working for associates. MS Viva is going to help us manage the future of work.” – Customer Senior Vice President, Human Resources

Place knowledge and expertise where employees are

“The USP of MS Viva Topics is to provide the correct information, at the correct time, at the correct place to the correct person.” – IT Executive

Integrate learning into the workflow

“As we move forward with deploying MS Viva Learning, we are excited to provide capabilities that empower teams to take more control over their development opportunities.” - General Manager of Talent and Learning Experiences

Channel partner success: Experts Inside

For more than 10 years, Experts Inside is a key partner for cloud based modern workplace and modern collaboration. Innovation and curiosity is a part of our DNA. Therefore, we recognized employee-experience and the according MS Viva suite as an important missing piece for best productivity.

BE AN EARLY ADOPTER

As one of a few Microsoft partners in Europe, we qualified for the Microsoft Viva jumpstart program. Since the introduction of MS we are in close contact with the MS Viva product-team.

KNOWLEDGE TRANSFER WITH CUSTOMERS AND THE COMMUNITY

By sharing our expertise, we get valuable feedback from the market. In our webinar series, the high number of attendees reflected the big interest or even demand about this topic. We were overwhelmed by the success of the campaign.

EAT OUR OWN DOGFOOD

At Experts Inside, we have been using all Viva modules in our company right from the start. We know what is working properly - and what isn't. We were pleased that our employees accepted these new opportunities.
