Businesses are trying to redefine their digital strategy, which makes digital workplace modernization and employee engagement even more critical to their success in the market. - ▶ Information governance: Structuring policy and governance to protect information privacy, security and efficiency across the data life cycle.
- ▶ Collaboration behaviour and models: Changing employee behaviors and supporting them with relevant applications such as document co-authoring in communities of practice, and project management within the construct of the Microsoft Teams platform.
- ▶ Collaborative innovation: Providing the models, disciplines and interaction guidance via Microsoft Teams to support crowdsourcing of ideas, competitive intelligence and commercialization.
- ▶ Knowledge sharing in the future of work: Designing knowledge sharing and findability, e.g., for improving firm-wide productivity, employee cohesion, and sales.
