

Cloud-native composable core banking system for financial institutions with the “Financial Function as a Service” principle.

New Generation Financial Technology

Meet Simplicity, Flexibility, and Dynamism, make your business easier, focus on your market.

Fimple is a composable banking solution built based on SaaS Architecture and running on cloud. Thanks to its easy installation feature, it is designed to start operating quickly, open up to new markets quickly, easily adapt to regulations, and save time and cost.

Definition Based System

With definition-based system support, core banking functions such as Accounting, receipt, Commission, etc. used for the banking system can be managed without IT support.

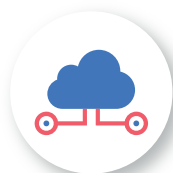

Native API Support

API-first, In line with open banking security principles, all functions can be opened as APIs. Disabling API and modifying the authorization level can be done from the configuration panels.

Native BPM and Process Designer

Fimple BPM, designed for the financial sector, is positioned in the system. With this system, banks and financial institutions can alter their processes by designer UIs.

Cloud Native

All systems, including core banking, run cloud-native and cloud-agnostic by default.

Get Control

Customers now want much more effective results with less technical staff investment. In addition, they are looking for more dynamic, flexible, and easily adaptable solutions instead of traditionally bulky and challenging-to-change applications. The Fimple cloud banking platform has been developed for you to solve all these problems with its completely customer-oriented approach.

Cost Reduction

No servers to purchase or maintain, you can make a smooth transition to the cloud.

Minimize Risk

It's not only secure and compliant, it can eliminate the possibilities of data breaches from unsecured endpoints.

Easy to Control

Fimple is a one stop ecosystem that provides everything that you need to manage your entire business.

Scale

Keeps you focused on the big picture, saving you time and money.
