FinCORE

Core Banking Solution

FinCORE is a complete web based core banking solution with the opportunity to meet present challenges with reduced cost and enhanced customer management measures. The core banking solution helps to streamline the current business processes with a supporting technology while Information Management and Risk Management is the key.

Everything starts with Core

An ideal Core banking solution is a solution where products, processes, channels, customer information and management tools are integrated and administered through a central database of the bank with branches and channels as delivery points. This helps in achieving economies of scale by data integration for various purposes such as cross selling, CRM, Regulatory Reporting and internal MIS.

Banks and Banking Technology has undergone a complete metamorphosis over
