

Remove GoDaddy Restrictions & Take Back Control of Microsoft 365 with Finchloom

Growing organizations that purchase Microsoft 365 through providers like GoDaddy often lose direct control of their tenant, limiting access to Microsoft capabilities and creating unnecessary IT complexity.

Finchloom helps remove the third-party identity layer and regain direct control of Microsoft 365 without the common headaches:

	No User Migration		No Mailbox Migration		No Tenant Rebuild
	No Downtime		No Service Interruption		No Lost Data

What to Expect During a 1-Day GoDaddy Defederation Engagement

Our team follows a structured methodology designed to remove GoDaddy dependencies while preserving users, data, and business operations, often completing the transition in as little as one day.

1. Understand the Environment

Reviews the GoDaddy-managed Microsoft 365 environment, identity configuration, and third-party dependencies.

2. Restore Microsoft-Native Identity

Remove the third-party identity provider and re-establish Microsoft Entra ID (Azure AD) as the authoritative identity platform.

3. Return Administrative Control

Enable direct management of users, licenses, security, and Microsoft 365 services without relying on a third party.

4. Confirm Operational Success

Validate access, functionality, and service continuity to ensure a smooth transition.

Take Back Control of the Microsoft 365 Environment You're Already Paying For

Gain direct access to Microsoft 365 administration, security controls, licensing, and services without relying on a third party to make changes on your behalf.
