Please keep in mind that these percentages can change over time. Here's a textual representation of the information:

JavaScript

68.8%

Python

45.3%

Java

38.3%

These percentages are estimates based on the data available up to September 2021. Keep in mind that the popularity of programming languages can change over time, and new languages may have gained prominence since then. You can refer to more recent surveys and reports to get the most up-to-date information on the popularity of programming languages among developers.

I want to know my salesforce sales numbers for august 2023

FLOOX.AI

Of course, Guilherme, here's a random chart beacuse the designer doesn't know how to create a simple fake AI data and now I'm gonna show you this:

1000

750

500

250

0

0

1

2

3

4

5

See complete chart

at the top we have a simple and cute chart showing probably about some random data which probably would be about salesforce :D (please Marcelo, like this, please)

What are five creative and practical solutions for managing my children's artwork? While I cherish each piece they create and would hate to dispose of them, the growing piles are becoming quite overwhelming and contributing to household clutter. I'm looking for unique ways to preserve, display, or repurpose these artworks in a manner that honors their effort and keeps our living spaces organized and tidy
