

Integrated Business Planning

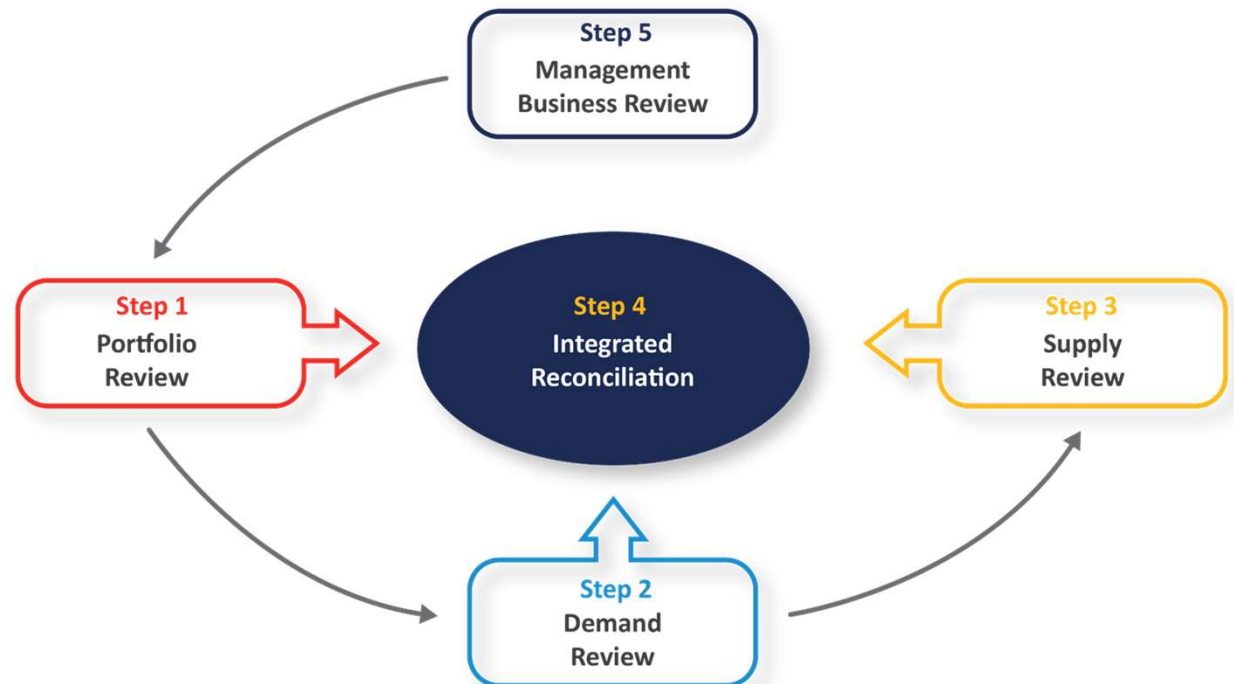

Fractal Analytics

As a CXO, do you find that:

- It takes you days or weeks to plan for your monthly and annual operating plans
- Efficient and granular management reporting is one of the biggest roadblocks to execution
- Business unit heads complain of not having the right information at the right time
- It takes an army of analysts to prepare long lengthy reports for business reviews
- Budget reviews are long and cumbersome, and often require follow up meetings
- Year round P&L estimation is often difficult and time consuming
- Lack of collaboration across functions inhibits seamless planning
- Not knowing how to be responsive to the digitization wave during changing environments
