

Enterprise-Scale AI Development and Deployment: 3 Months Implementation Project

Elevate your AI capabilities with our Enterprise-Scale AI Development and Deployment service. We design and implement AI solutions using Azure Machine Learning for model training and deployment, and Azure Cognitive Services for advanced AI functionalities like speech recognition and image analysis. Our service ensures your AI models are scalable, secure, and integrated seamlessly into your business processes. Additionally, we leverage Azure OpenAI Service for generative AI applications, and Azure Kubernetes Service (AKS) for containerized AI deployments, providing a comprehensive and robust AI solution.

We support your teams in adopting MLOps practices, integrating CI/CD pipelines for ML models, and managing model lifecycle governance at scale. This improves agility and helps avoid drift in production environments.

Our service also includes robust monitoring and retraining capabilities. This ensures AI models remain relevant and effective as data, behaviors, and business needs evolve.

Deliverables: you will receive a reference architecture tailored to your enterprise environment, a production-grade deployment and automated MLOps workflows to support continuous delivery. We also provide documentation and a knowledge handover package, enabling your teams to maintain and evolve the solution.

We are Futurice – an outcome-focused digital transformation company, empowering the world to act.
