POWERING TRANSFORMATION

WHAT IS LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT APP?

Today's successful organizations are known for many things, but continuously honed knowledge and collective skill sets are among the prime forces of true transformation. Access to valuable education and training materials is paramount to any organization's continued growth.

There are many resources one may use to facilitate this process. But there's nothing like having an always-on system native to your own organization to keep staff consistently engaged and enhanced. Global Brands Group has just such a solution among its power apps: GBG's Learning and Development App.

Learning and Development App allows organizations to fully organize course and training plans from start to finish. Users have access to an evolving database of courses and training materials in various career skills, and it is possible to customize the process of training, from allocating trainees and course materials to rounds and sessions, reminders and tracking. Users also gain access to attendance surveys and polls, as well as detailed reports for results, feedback and expected course ROI.

LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT APP BENEFITS

It almost goes without saying that more training means sharper staff, and sharper staff mean better results. Global Brands Group's Learning and Development App offers many benefits to organizations of all scales.

- Valuable access to an evolving database of course and training materials.
- Simple setup and customization for all course tracks and training programs.
- Users enjoy an intuitive interface with all necessary prerequisites, information and plans.
- Always-on platform for continued learning and success.
- Company-specific goals, plans, courses and evaluation metrics
