

Custom AI Assistant

Draw insights from your data using natural language and generative AI.

Start a conversation with your data.

Your organization's data holds the key to better decisions and improved experiences. But with vast volumes of data, finding the right information to analyze is a challenge. With a custom-built chat assistant powered by large language models (LLM) like OpenAI, you can simply ask questions in natural language and get meaningful answers in return. Developed by HBS, your AI assistant is secure, self-contained, and deployed within your environment—so your data stays private while your analysis gets faster, deeper, and more intuitive.
