

Copilot Studio Journey

The journey can be tailored for organizations at different stages, from those just getting started to those already experimenting with the product or building solutions.

If you are making your first steps on Copilot Studio, Discovery Stage is the right place to start. If you are already experimenting with Copilot Studio, then Foundational Stage is where you should start. And if you already have some solutions built with Copilot Studio in production, then the Growth Stage is for you.

Discovery Stage

For organizations making their first steps into Copilot Studio.

Foundational Stage

For organizations that already started working with Copilot Studio but still need to define the right strategies for them.

Growth Stage

For early-adopters of Copilot Studio (or even Power Virtual Agent).
