

HEXAWARE

Hexaware Technologies Limited

Medical Coding Automation

MEDICAL CODING AUTOMATION

The traditional medical coding problem involves assigning specific alphanumeric codes to medical procedures and diagnoses for billing and record-keeping, ensuring accuracy and compliance with healthcare regulations. It can be time-consuming and error-prone, leading to inefficiencies and revenue loss in healthcare institutions.

CHALLENGES

- The ever-increasing volume of medical data makes it increasingly difficult for coders to keep up, leading to backlogs and delays in coding
- Inaccurate or delayed coding can result in reimbursement delays for healthcare providers, impacting their financial stability

IDEAL SOLUTION

- A solution that is capable of automatically extracting and assigning accurate medical codes, including ICD Codes, administered Medications, and Treatment details from various medical documents

DESIRED OUTCOMES

- Enhance coding accuracy for improved patient care by ensuring precise healthcare terminology extraction and minimizing errors.
- Optimize efficiency in coding processes to enable greater data handling capacity, timely reimbursement, and compliance with regulations and guidelines, reducing financial risks.

Medical Coding Automation

Revolutionize medical coding with cutting-edge automation, simplifying complex tasks and elevating precision in healthcare documentation. Say goodbye to manual coding and embrace the future of streamlined, error-free record-keeping.

INNOVATION

At Hexaware, we are committed to innovating and revolutionizing the medical coding automation. Our goal is to develop cutting-edge technologies and best practices that enable medical coding professionals to quickly and accurately process medical bills.

EFFICIENT MANAGEMENT

In the intricate realm of healthcare, we provide streamlined solutions for enhanced efficiency and strategic benefits. Our services bring substantial cost savings and seamless integration, offering a competitive edge in the healthcare sector.

MICROSOFT INTEGRATION BENEFIT

Unleash the next-generation medical coding solution, leveraging cloud technology and secure Azure OpenAI for unparalleled efficiency, compliance, and a distinct competitive advantage.