Are you an organization with 500 users or less and looking for comprehensive Advanced Endpoint Protection (AEP) services?

The Liquid C2 Microsoft AEP solution can be what you need.

Customer Requirements today:

Do you need comprehensive endpoint and server protection? The lack of timeous threat identification leads to inadequate management and control, leaving you vulnerable to cyber-attacks. Many customers may have invested in Microsoft E3 & E5 licensing but may not consume all the security functionality the license provides.

The Liquid C2 Microsoft AEP solution offers threat intelligence and situational awareness capability, leading to a proactive response rather than a reactive one.

The Liquid C2 Microsoft AEP solution offers the following:

- Protection against lateral attacks on endpoints and servers
- Protection against malicious code attacks when browsing
- Comprehensive protection against malware attacks

Microsoft Defender for Endpoint is critical for our Microsoft AEP service offering.

Key Benefits:

- Automated investigation and remediation
- Threat intelligence and actionable reporting
- Attack surface reduction

Key Features:

Features of our Microsoft AEP solution include, but are not limited to:

- Prevention – Device control, firewall, web protection
- Detection – Advanced hunting, custom file indicators, EDR block
- Response – Device isolation, automated investigation & response
