How do you manage your devices when the workplace is everywhere ?

Users today work from all locations, which makes management difficult. IT staff can no longer rely on the on-premise connection to guarantee updates and security of the devices. Therefore Inetum-Realdolmen wants to support the transition to a simpler management.

Challenges

Modern way of working results in more flexible work from any place, on any device. User devices become less bounded to the company perimeter requiring updated management to overcome these obstacles

Ideal solution

Device management simply gives you control over devices, resulting in better management.

Desired outcomes

Reducing the administration with optimal management and protection of the device.

Endpoint Management

Endpoint Management

Your company data is key to your organization and must be protected with the highest available security in our modern workplace environment. Today, often on non-company devices as well as on company devices. Protecting data protects your property and get this done effortless.

1- Deliver

Deliver your company data only on managed devices. Know where your apps and data reside. Conditional access determines the capabilities.

2- Manage

Manage the updates and system to allow more controlled access to corporate resources based on rules.

3- Integration

Using the Microsoft tools allows you to expand your device protection end-to-end with even better control over devices

How to start ?

We simplified your endpoint management in 3 basic steps to get you on the road.

1- Aware and design

We inform you and together we design your endpoint management of the future

2- Implementation simplified

Together we build your management based on our best practices. We train you to support your environment.
