

MICROSOFT ENTRA ACCESS REVIEWS - Continuous evaluation of user access

Periodically review your Entra groups, applications and privileged roles using Entra Access Reviews.

Entra Access Reviews enable organisations to efficiently review group memberships, application access and privileged role assignments. Reviews can be configured to run automatically and can be configured to require a reviewer team to manage access or self-review with group members. Access reviews are important to ensure users have the right access to complete tasks within their current role.

Lastly all access reviews can be audited to ensure a detailed history can be accessed to discover why users still require access to resources.

During this engagement, ITC will provide guidance on configuring and scoping Access Reviews to ensure groups can resources can be reviewed and only the necessary users require access.
