Peter Connects Receptionist for Broadsoft

The new PeterConnects Receptionist for Broadsoft is a Software-as-a-Service application that is operated via the web browser. This makes answering and forwarding incoming calls easier, faster and more efficient. Managing and processing multiple incoming phone calls has never been easier.

This product is a one-to-one replacement for the Broadsoft Receptionist/HIP Receptionist.

The Receptionist has a user-friendly, modern web interface. It displays additional information about the telephone calls is displayed, so that the receptionist or telephone operator always has everything to hand. He or she can also quickly send a callback note to a colleague, and shortcuts can be used. The Attendant will be available in several languages.

This solution is suitable for every organisation. This makes it ideal for small offices with a single telephone number or a single user, but also for larger organisations with multiple users and telephone numbers.

The PeterConnects Receptionist for Broadsoft will be available in two different versions.
