knowit

Microsoft
Solutions Partner

Expand your product and service portfolio

About Building with Generative AI:

Generative AI technology opens opportunities for your organization to upgrade existing or develop new and innovative products and services according to the needs of customers within your industries.

What we offer

To efficiently utilize Generative AI within your new and existing projects, it is crucial to ensure experienced domain-experts are part of your teams.

We can provide experienced specialist developers as well as project and product resources to ensure innovation, and fully take advantage of the potential of Generative AI.

With more than 4,000 employees at the intersection of business and technology, Knowit is uniquely positioned to help your organization plan and execute projects to develop new and innovative solutions and products that make use of new technology.

Resources for project assistance and implementation

Knowit can cover all your need for domain-specific or generic needs of specialized experts in product and service development.