INFORMATION PROTECTION

Protect Sensitive Data & Manage Insider Risks
with Intelligence

October 2022

Know and protect sensitive data across clouds and on-premises

Protecting your organisation's growing amount of sensitive data, such as customer PII and intellectual property, is just as important as protecting your organisation from external threats. Our information protection and risk management solutions help tackle commonly faced challenges, such as mapping sensitive data in hybrid environments and understanding risks from insiders, employees or vendors.

Primary Challenges

According to IDC's Industry CloudPath & SaaSPath 2020 survey, 88% of organisations no longer have confidence in detecting and preventing the loss of sensitive data. A key challenge that all organisations face today is discovery of sensitive data that resides in hybrid environments, understanding its usage and designing protection plans based on your understanding of that data.

Ideal Solution

The bedrock of our solution, designed with Zero Trust principles at its core, is a comprehensive set of both manual and automatic data classification methods. Especially notable are classifiers that leverage machine learning to automatically identify and classify sensitive content at scale using pattern-matching methods. Leveraging Microsoft's information protection development platform we can offer a consistent and seamless classification, labeling, and protection experience.

Desired Outcomes

Once you know your data, you can benefit from using Microsoft's built-in labeling and protection experience in solutions like Word, Excel, or PowerPoint, or services like SharePoint, Exchange, or Power BI. Using these core workloads instead of a bolted-on, plug-in experience not only lowers your costs by eliminating the need to maintain additional software, but also delivers better performance by eliminating the need to load add-ons every time a user launches an app or service.

Information Protection & Risk Management Solution

The loss of sensitive data is a risk for every organisation. Whether through accidental disclosure, or through intentional theft, data loss incidents have serious consequences. Our information protection solution allows you to protect sensitive data and manage insider risks with intelligence.

KNOW AND PROTECT DATA ACROSS CLOUDS & ON-PREMISE

Discover sensitive data that resides in your hybrid environment and analyze its usage.

PREVENT INAPPROPRIATE SHARING OF SENSITIVE DATA

Focus on how data leaves your company from multiple egress points, especially employees working from home, to prevent data loss.

MANAGE INSIDER RISKS & POLICY VIOLATIONS

Understand risks from insiders, employees, or vendors who may act maliciously, to steal intellectual property, turn off security controls or cause inadvertent risks.

Our Approach

Designing and implementing an Information Protection solution requires a careful, methodical approach to ensure the most sensitive assets are appropriately protected while minimising the impact on normal business operations. Our proven approach enables a successful outcome for every organisation.

STRATEGY DEVELOPMENT

Our SMEs collaborate with business stakeholders and IT to identify at-risk data and threats before developing a targeted protection model.

POLICY DEVELOPMENT

Our team of engineers implement the technologies and policies needed to identify and prevent data loss across all risk vectors.

DATA PROTECTION CONTROLS

Introducing information protection controls, such as encryption, allows organisations to control who can access different types of data based on their risk appetite.
