AI & Psychology

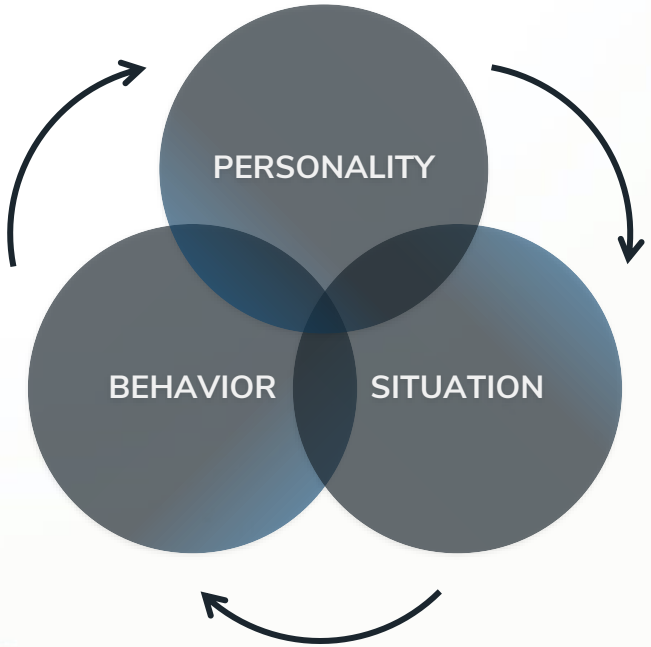
A unique connection

talk2amy®

personality

- Has many layers; it is complex and interconnected
- Detailed assessment takes a lot of time and is expensive
- Interpretation of results needs an expert
- Evaluating a group of people (team) is even more complicated

How do we react?



- → Our personality and specific situations affect our behavior
- → Emotions are an inseparable part of our experience
- → Emotional responses express the dynamic side of our personality
- → Do we always react correctly?
- → Can we recognize emotions and work with them?

Where are we going?

- → Our motivation and abilities drive us towards
- → We need not only to meet basic needs, but also to have a sense of growth and transcendence
- → We have several roles in life that place different demands on us
- → Who do I want to be in life?
- → What do I need to do?

Teams and groups

- The team is not just a group of independent individuals
- It can be assessed as a whole
- It has its dynamics; everyone has a role to play in it
- How to assemble a properly functioning team?
- Is the team effective?
