Improving patient outcomes with e-PROMs

Feb 19, 2023

Electronic Patient Reported Outcome Measures (e-PROMs) are digital tools that allow patients to report their symptoms and health outcomes online, typically through a secure portal. e-PROMs are valuable because they provide clinicians with real-time information about how patients are feeling, which can be used to inform treatment decisions and improve the quality of care. Additionally, e-PROMs can help patients to better manage their health by providing them with personalized feedback and support.

offer a promising approach to improving patient outcomes and enhancing the delivery of healthcare services.
