How The Nesh Sales AI Platform Works

The Nesh Sales AI Platform delivers the most advanced AI designed to build an intelligent single source of truth and meet the technical needs of Advanced Manufacturing industries.

The Nesh Platform is fueled by:

Your Product Data

Nesh integrates with your product data sources – recognizing and providing enterprise search access to multimodal inputs like video, images, text, and voice.

Your Expert Knowledge

Nesh identifies knowledge gaps and guides your technical experts through a knowledge transfer process that complements the way they work (Q&As, presentations, videos, voice notes, and more.)

Our Domain Knowledge

Nesh is enterprise-ready AI that we intentionally designed to meet the technical needs of your complex products, business, value chain, and industry.

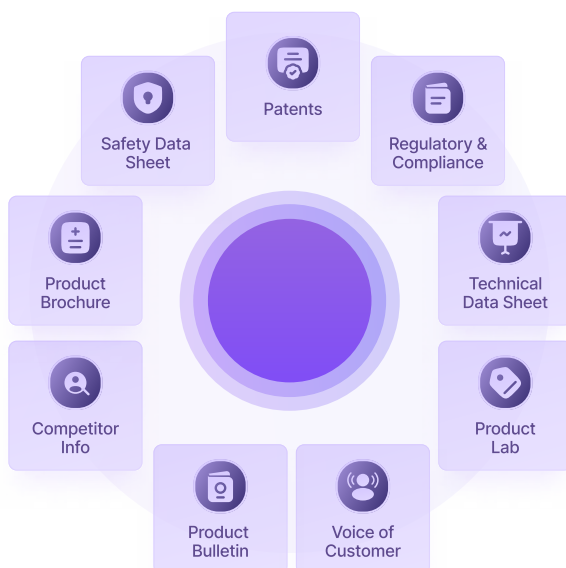

Our Enterprise Toolkit

Our state-of-the-art AI Models are designed for your company's unique data texture and security requirements.

Combine your product data with the power of GenAI to find revenue-driving insights

Nesh captures insights stored in your product documents.

Integrations Designed to Capture Knowledge

Build a data pipeline that captures the full range of your company's knowledge with Formal Knowledge, Informal Knowledge, and Expert Knowledge... wherever the information is stored.

Formal Knowledge

Chrome

Salesforce

SharePoint

Informal Knowledge

Teams

Outlook

One Drive

Slack

Expert Knowledge

Enterprise AI that is Private. Secure. Yours.

Our model architecture was designed from the ground up to support our customer's security and data privacy requirements. Nesh is SOC 2 compliant. Nesh can be deployed as:

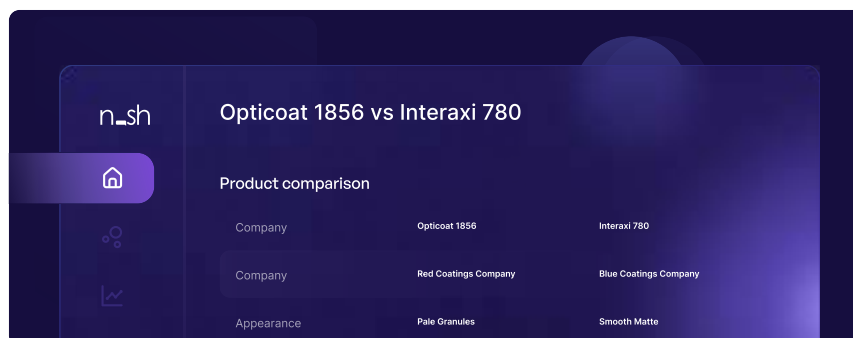

Enterprise SaaS

Virtual Private Cloud

With either option, our model architecture was designed from the ground up to support our customer's security and data privacy requirements.

Leverage the power of GenAI to find the revenue-driving insights stored in your enterprise data and expert knowledge

Don't just stop knowledge loss.
Put your Enterprise Data and Expert Knowledge to Work.

Nesh helps you proactively capture your expert's product knowledge and reduce your team's knowledge gaps. Now, your expert's knowledge and insights stay with you – even when they leave or retire.

Stop wasting valuable time.
Ramp new team members faster.

Onboard, engage, and mobilize new sellers with the information and training they need to drive revenue faster and more efficiently.

Help your channel partners up their game.

Close your distributor's technical knowledge gaps so they understand your products better and build better customer relationships.

Build a Technical Sales and Services Strategy that Drives Growth.

Give your field, sales, and technical support reps the knowledge they need to drive meaningful, technical conversations with your priority accounts. Teams that use Nesh deliver valuable insights without latency close bigger deals, and onboard new customers with higher levels of satisfaction.
