

1-Day Virtual Workshop

Intro to Linux & DevOps

NewWave offers an introduction course for DevOps and how it is leveraged in the application lifecycle. The workshop will build an understanding of basic DevOps concepts and then dive into Linux commands.

Participants will be able to get some valuable knowledge surrounding the history of the Linux OS and why it is so important to DevOps Engineers, get introduced to the most important Linux commands, and learn how to install and use Linux commands on their local machine with some hands-on practice!

newwave.io