

Strategy: Node4 Azure Ignition

Our tailored Strategy Consulting Package for Azure

Aligned with Microsoft's Cloud Adoption Framework (CAF) this consulting package is designed to help you define your strategy for Azure adoption and validate the business case for transformation.

Understanding your move to Azure

When it comes to migrating your databases to Azure there can be uncertainty around costs and best practices. Our Ignition Strategy Consulting Package breaks down those uncertainties and helps debunk myths around what workloads should or shouldn't be migrated to the cloud.

We will help you understand the TCO impact of a move to Azure, sit down with you to define an adoption project plan and understand how to apply best practices, and show you where the quick wins are in your IT environment to provide the biggest gains for your business.

A best practice approach to cloud adoption

The Ignition Strategy Consulting Package for Azure is typically a short, tactical engagement whereby our aim is to help you quantify the real-world cost and opportunities of a move to Microsoft Azure. Working in line with the Microsoft Cloud Adoption Framework best practice our consultants will undertake the following activities:

- Run a high-level assessment of your current estate
- Produce a high-level TCO estimate for a move to Azure
- Undertake a senior management workshop to understand business goals
- Undertake interviews with service line teams to understand the core business applications
- Identify and agree a "quick win" first adoption project
- Provide a high-level design and detailed costed overview for the adoption project
