

ODNA Privacy policy

This privacy policy describes how ODNA uses and protects any information that you give us. We are committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. If you provide us with personal information through ODNA, you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement.

Gathering of personally-identifying information

Certain visitors to ODNA choose to interact with ODNA in ways that require ODNA to gather personally-identifying information. The amount and type of information that ODNA gathers depends on the nature of the interaction.

In each case, ODNA collects such information only insofar as is necessary or appropriate to fulfill the purpose of the visitor's interaction with ODNA. ODNA does not disclose personally-identifying information other than as described below. And visitors can always refuse to supply personally-identifying information, with the caveat that it may prevent them from engaging in certain website-related activities.

All of the information that is collected on ODNA will be handled in accordance with GDPR legislation.

Protection of certain personally-identifying information

ODNA discloses potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information only to those of project administrators, employees, contractors, and affiliated organizations that (i) need to know that information in order to process it on ODNA's behalf or to provide services available through ODNA, and (ii) that have agreed not to disclose it to others. Some of those employees, contractors and affiliated organizations may be located outside of your home country; by using ODNA, you consent to the transfer of such information to them.

ODNA will not rent or sell potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information to anyone. Other than to project administrators, employees, contractors, and affiliated organizations, as described above, ODNA discloses potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information only when required to do so by law, if you give permission to have your information shared, or when ODNA believes in good faith that disclosure is reasonably necessary to protect the property or rights of ODNA, third parties, or the public at large.

If you are a registered user of ODNA and have supplied your email address, ODNA may occasionally send you an email to tell you about new features, solicit your feedback, or just keep you up to date with what's going on with ODNA and our products.

If you send us a request (for example via a support email or via one of our feedback mechanisms), we reserve the right to publish it in order to help us clarify or respond to your request or to help us support other users. ODNA takes all measures reasonably necessary to protect against the unauthorized access, use, alteration, or destruction of potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information.

Use of personal information

We will not use the information you provide when you register for an account, attend our events, receive newsletters, use certain other services in any other way.

We will not sell or lease your personal information to third parties unless we have your permission or are required by law to do so.

We would like to send you email marketing communication which may be of interest to you from time to time. If you have consented to marketing, you may opt out later.

You have a right at any time to stop us from contacting you for marketing purposes. If you no longer wish to be contacted for marketing purposes, please click on the unsubscribe link at the bottom of the email.

Legal grounds for processing personal information

We rely on one or more of the following processing conditions:

- our legitimate interests in the effective delivery of information and services to you;
- explicit consent that you have given;
- legal obligations.

Access to data

You have the right to request a copy of the information we hold about you. If you would like a copy of some or all your personal information, please follow the instructions at the end of this section.

Retention of personal information

We will retain your personal information on our systems only for as long as we need to, for the success of ODNA and the programs that support ODNA. We keep contact information (such as mailing list information) until a user unsubscribes or requests that we delete that information from our live systems. If you choose to unsubscribe from a mailing list, we may keep certain limited information about you so that we may honor your request.

When deletion is requested or otherwise required, we will anonymize the data of data subjects and/or remove their information from publicly accessible sites if the deletion of data would break essential systems or damage the logs or records necessary to the operation, development, or archival records of ODNA.

Rights in relation to your information

You may have certain rights under data protection law in relation to the personal information we hold about you. In particular, you may have a right to:

- request a copy of personal information we hold about you;

- ask that we update the personal information we hold about you, or independently correct such personal information that you think is incorrect or incomplete;
- ask that we delete personal information that we hold about you from live systems, or restrict the way in which we use such personal information (for information on deletion from archives, see the “Retention of personal information” section);
- object to our processing of your personal information; and/or
- withdraw your consent to our processing of your personal information (to the extent such processing is based on consent and consent is the only permissible basis for processing).

If you would like to exercise these rights or understand if these rights apply to you, please follow the instructions at the end of this Privacy statement.

Our website may contain links to other websites provided by third parties not under our control. When following a link and providing information to a 3rd-party website, please be aware that we are not responsible for the data provided to that third party.
