OnActuate Performance Testing Toolkit

Powered by JMeter

When testing the performance of your software, do you find yourself struggling with a sluggish production environment, ineffective load testing, and excessive manual work?

Introducing the OnActuate Performance Testing Toolkit, a testing service through JMeter designed to reduce risks and enhance system quality and reliability within 6 weeks.
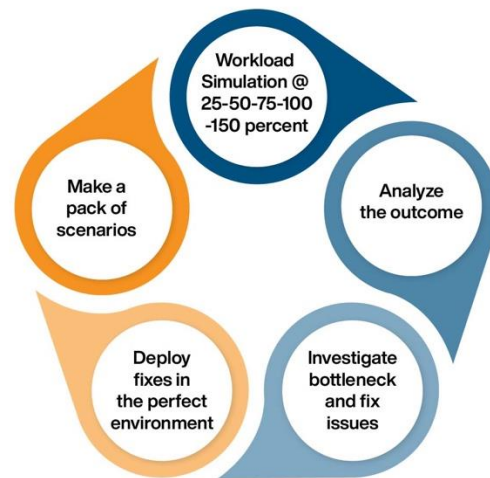

Testing includes:

- User Interface (UI) performance: To test how quickly and efficiently the user interface of an application responds to user interactions.
- Application Programming Interface (API) performance: To test how effectively an API responds to requests, including speed, reliability, and resource usage.

JMeter is one of the most widely used open-source performance testing tools. OnActuate is a leading global implementation partner for Microsoft and expert in performance testing, with a commitment to hassle free deployments.

Why is performance testing important?

1. Ensure seamless business transactions during peak loads, both at go-live and beyond.
2. Boost business confidence for future growth.
3. Enhance user satisfaction by providing a smooth and responsive experience, reducing the likelihood of performance-related issues.
