What We Do At Onyx Data

We are a data analytics partner that specialises in using our technology and data expertise to provide end-to-end data strategy and execution from design to build.

Data Strategy

We partner with organisations to craft a practical and prescriptive Data Management, Governace and Analytics Strategy as quickly and efficiently as possible.

Data Engineering

We work with you to extract, cleanse, organise, curate, and catalog your data throughout its entire lifecycle from creation to the time it's archived using best-in-class tools.

Data Analytics

Dashboards that empower data discovery and channel insights to decision makers. We automate analytic workflows, build scheduled report distribution, and embed operational alerting.

Data Science

We help you identify future outcomes and trends by layering automated machine learning models over your data landscape. Predictive analytics drives value through better planning and proactive decision making.

Data Products

We partner with you to build bespoke data driven commercial products leveraging the latest web development tools sets -

- Subscription based platforms
- Customer portals
- Analytic mashups in public facing websites.

Why clients partner with us...

We solve these challenges...

CUT COSTS

With a good data analysis system, you can determine the sectors of your business that are using unnecessary finances and the areas that need more financing.

HELPS SOLVE PROBLEMS

Data assists the organisation to make an informed decision on running the business and provide information that could help the business to avoid any occurrence of loss.

SINGLE SOURCE OF TRUTH

With accurate and relevant data across all areas of the business.

When: Perfect Timing

How do we achieve this on schedule?

ASSEMBLE

We liaise with key stakeholders to ensure key business outcomes are captured and documented.

ALIGN

Working to agreed data engineering objectives we cleanse, harmonise and collate your data capturing key business metrics.

AGREE

We will present this data back to the business using industry leading data visualisation.

ACTIVATE

Launching accurate, clear and concise leading-edge data and analytics solutions to the areas of your business that need it most.
