Is your business ready for Windows Virtual Desktop?

The way we work is changing. With proper planning and delivery, virtual desktop infrastructure (VDI) technology—such as Microsoft WVD—will form a key part of IT modernisation. Piksel Group can guide you on a journey to a successful WVD deployment.

CHALLENGES

To prepare, deploy, and optimise WVD requires expertise. Without the help of a specialist consultant partner, this can be a time- and resource-consuming task.

IDEAL SOLUTION

Our expert-certified Microsoft Azure and WVD cloud consultants will walk you through the benefits and features of each solution, help create your deployment plan, and build a tailored proof of value (PoV) environment.

DESIRED OUTCOMES

Our consultancy accelerates your WVD deployment, saving you time and resources and enabling your business to stay connected, regardless of the location—remote or on-site—of your workforce.

Customer success: WVD enables NHS staff to adapt to COVID-19

"Within two weeks of our initial conversation with Piksel Group, we had a scalable WVD environment and were leveraging multifactor authentication to provide our healthcare professionals access to core clinical systems and applications on-demand, without any barriers." —Mehmet Erhan, NCL Clinical Commissioning Group, National Health Service

Rapidly deliver a VDI solution at scale
At the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic in March 2020, NHS had to quickly adjust the way its employees worked. WVD made this possible.

Securely scale without limits
NHS no longer needed to procure, configure, and deploy new corporate devices at pace and scale—a sizeable feat on its own.

Positive user feedback
WVD was a genuine game-changer for NHS users—one with significant potential for further innovation and even more added value.
